Director of Quality - Beverage Plant

About the Job

Global beverage company is currently in search of an experienced Director of Quality to join its team. This position will oversee all aspects of Quality Assurance / Quality Control (QA / QC) within the plant, including raw material batching / blending / processing as well as packaging of finished products.

The successful candidate will have at least 7-10 years of progressive quality leadership within a high-speed liquid food or beverage manufacturing plant. A four-year degree is required and must be a degree related to biology, microbiology, food science, chemistry or applied mathematics.

The company will offer a competitive base salary, achievable bonus plan and excellent benefits. Relocation assistance will be provided via a sign-on bonus.

Please note: Our client is only considering candidates with extensive QA experience within a food or beverage plant. Other backgrounds will not be considered!
